

WHAT? NO WOMEN?

Once, while I was speaking in an American church about our ministry there was one man in the congregation who thought I was saying “men” every time I said, “mien.” Finally he asked, “Don’t you do anything for women?” I assured him that truly there were both “women Mien” and “men Mien.” He just had not heard the glide from ‘i’ to ‘e’ in the word “Mien.”

In traditional pre-Christian culture Mien women were very much under subjection to their menfolk. But today Mien women, even those who are not yet Christians, are experiencing increasing freedom to exercise their own gifts. Many Mien women are outpacing their husbands in leadership abilities, in education, and in other ways. It has been encouraging to see in recent years women’s conferences planned and led by Mien women growing and developing both in the west and in Asia – both locally and on a national level.

Finally they organized as an international body under the title “Ziepc Zuoqv nyei M’sieqv Dorn ” = (Faithful Women) and held their first conference under that title Sept. 18-20 in a beautiful retreat center in Washington State. Camp theme was “Dongh Diuc Hnyouv”= (Of one heart). Special speaker was Ann Burgess, translation coordinator of Mien Bible. She spoke 3 times on faithful women of the Bible. Ching Bayless led Bible studies. Of the 157 attendees there were 3 from Canada, 5 from Thailand, & 3 from other countries.

Plans are already in progress for next conference to be held Sept. 2017 at Woodleaf, a Young Life Center in Challenge, CA

OTHER HAPPENINGS

Increasingly heaven is blessed with the arrival there of loved ones. With the passing of my youngest brother, Dallas, in May I am the only one left of 7 siblings.

My granddaughter Dorina, husband Morgan & 3 kids have been in Honduras since August serving in a mission school.

My daughter Jeni's husband John has been heavily involved for several years with over 100 other "Capitol Intercessors" They go regularly in groups to pray in our state capitol. California governor and legislators certainly need much prayer that this state may return to godly values.

This year I've been blessed more than usual with visitors. Most of my children were here in May and Joyce was back again in October. Missionaries and friends from Thailand, Singapore, and France came. Twice there were Mien from Thailand. And U.S. Mien came numerous times.

A major development in Mien outreach efforts has been the publication of the book & CD titled "Tin-Hungh caux Mienh" (God & Man). It contains 45 basic Bible stories from creation to the 2nd coming. The audio recording of this book is being distributed here and abroad on micro SD cards which we are calling "Mission Chips" or "Tiny Missionaries." These chips also contain a large number of songs, sermons, and radio programs.

Mien radio broadcasts are continuing daily. Recording of the Bible is slow but progressing.

Now as 2015 is drawing to a close I pray you may have a happy Thanksgiving, a joyful Christmas & a blessed 2016.

And do remember that :

Jesus
